ARTS & CULTURE LAS VEGAS

SUMMER 26

A MAGAZINE WORTH PICKING UP

A C/LV is a quarterly print magazine celebrating the artists, performers, and creative culture that powers Las Vegas.

It is a large-format, full-color publication designed for readers interested in discovering the real Las Vegas. Each issue offers direct access to the people behind the spectacle—from globally recognized Vegas-based artists to emerging voices defining the city today.

With strong visual content and a locally rooted focus, it's a natural fit for galleries, boutiques, gift shops, and curated retail spaces.

- Quarterly print magazine
- Oversized format: 9.25 X 12.5", 72 pages
- Full color, 100lb gloss throughout
- Curated editorial

AC/LV sits somewhere between an art book and a magazine, designed to be kept, displayed, and revisited.

WHO BUYS THIS

Our readers are people who:

- Buy art, books, and collectible objects
- Attend shows, openings, and cultural events
- Look for meaningful, local experiences
- Value design, storytelling, and physical media

They are typically:

- Ages 21–55
- Locals and culturally engaged visitors
- Diverse professionals, creatives, and experience-driven travelers
- Culture-conscious with disposable income

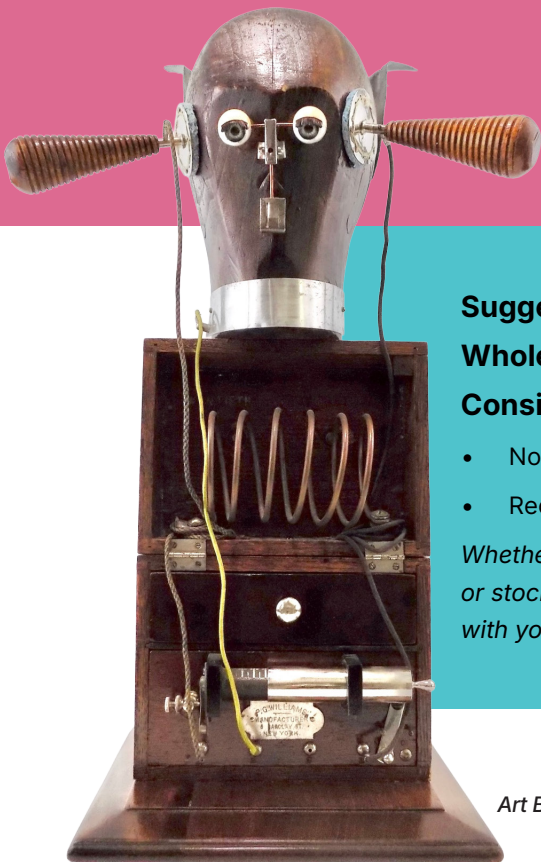

They are seeking a deeper connection to Las Vegas beyond the typical tourist script.

ABOUT THE EDITOR

Robin Slonina has spent decades immersed in both the creation and promotion of art.

From her early work writing and reporting on the arts to building one of the country's largest body art companies, her career has consistently centered around elevating creative voices.

In Las Vegas, she has become a driving force in the arts community, opening Slonina ARTSpace and exhibiting hundreds of local artists.

With AC ⚡ LV, she brings that same commitment to print, creating a platform that captures and celebrates the culture happening right now.
